Mikita 2 1/4 HP plunge router with fixed base and case (barely used); this lists for $400, but can be had on Amazon.com for $199 + shipping. I'll take $150. Also Porter Cable 6" variable speed random orbital sander (glue-on pad style). It sells for $129.95 locally, and I'll sell mine for $100. Also 12" DeWalt sliding compound miter saw, 2 blades, and Rousseau miter stand (very deluxe set-up!) This item costs over $1,100 total, is almost unused, and I'll sell it for slightly more than the price of the saw and blades! Also Dust Collectors: 1200 C.F.M. Delta dust collector with 1/2 micron bags. This unit costs around $400 with bags, blast gates, and the two 4" hoses I have -- and I'll sell it for $200. The other unit I have is a smaller (540 CFM) two-stage Delta unit that I will sell for $125. It has caster wheels and sits on a metal drum (looks like a 55 gallon drum), and is easily rolled around the shop. It too has a 4" hose. Also Incra Jig Ultra I will sell any of these tools for a price that will make someone really happy. I have all the original containers (where applicable), and owner's manuals on these tools.

Novice SIGContact person: Floyd Gibson,

The Novice SIG met on Saturday, July 16 at Floyd Gibson's shop to have a "hands on" session making inlays with a router. Sixteen members attended. Floyd first showed members how to do inlays with a router. The router was to make the inlay pocket in wood and to route a piece of contrasting wood to fit into pocket exactly ( well maybe not exactly ) with little or no sanding or adjustment were needed. Then Floyd turned his routers over to the members to try their hand at making these inlays with Don Robinson's expert assistance. Eight members attempted and completed their inlays. Every one became a instant and skilled expert (OK maybe not an expert but close). All in all, it was a new and different experience for everyone involved.

Bob Schieck brought his relief carving to demonstrate this. Bob was actually carving wood and not injuring himself (hooray)! The members then went into small discussion groups mostly in the shade or in Floyd house for A/C cool place. Thank you Floyd & Marilyn for a great day.

The next Novice meeting is to Aug 20 Sat 10am to 1pm at Paul Toth's shop,

Tole Painting SIGContact Person: Rogette Sommers,

Tole Painting meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at the Ethel Hart Center. It is not necessary to bring your own paints or brushes (although it is appreciated if you do). Just bring a willingness to learn a great new aspect of woodworking and enjoy a true learning experience. 7 to 9 p.m. on March 10 and 24. Experienced Tole painters will be there to teach you how.

Furniture/Finishing SIGContact Person: Dick Wampach,

The Furniture/Finishing SIG met at the Laudenslayers shop on the evening of July 19. The subject for the meeting was Allan's new Jointech Dovetail Jig. He had several pieces dovetailed when we arrived and then demonstrated the jig, cutting more dovetails. The router table was also made by Jointech. He had a book of templates for a variety of dovetail cuts. The women present retired to the patio for some quieter conversation and - believe it or not - some woodworking discussions!

Thanks to Allan and Nancy for having us.

The August Furniture SIG will be hosted by Bob and Sonja Lemon,

Scrollsaw SIG*Contact person: Bob Schieck

The Scrollsaw SIG met Saturday, July 9 at Woody Woods shop. Woody had his Hagner scrollsaw available along with the cub's Hagner & Delta. Fourteen members attended on this beautiful day. Bob Schieck brought some projects for the members to complete including a Santa golfer mounted on 1/4" plywood. Some of the projects were a little difficult and some were easy. Seven members began cutting out Bob's projects. (Doesn't Bob Schieck ever cut out his own Projects!) Also Bob brought some 3/4" #3 pine & 1 1/2" # 2 pine to distribute to the members attending. All received some wood for toys. Woody had a display of toys he was making and most of members wanted to try to cut some of these out as well. The meeting ended around 1:30pm Thank you Woody & Doris for a great time in the Foothills.

The next Scrollsaw SIG will be Saturday, August 13 10am to 1pm at Andrew Santos

Pen SIG*Contact Person: Tom Taylor,

The meeting was held after the publishing deadline for the monthly newsletter. So how does one tell about a meeting that has not happened yet? Well..... Sort of like this; The July Pen SIG was held at Alan and Nancy Laudenslayer's shop where several members turned pens and small lathe projects. Discussed was the location of the August's Pen SIG meeting which was left open to seek a volunteer. Anyone wishing to host Pen SIG please contact Tom Taylor. Some requests were received from members to have private one on one lessons in turning pens, and two members met at Tom's shop and spent the morning turning pens and honing their lathe skills. Tom stated by sharing the knowledge we all learned some new skills and ideas.

Toy Workshop, 2005*Contact Person: Bob Schieck,

SAW had the first Toy for Tots 2005 Toy Workshop at Woodcraft on Saturday, July 23. Fifteen members attended this workshop. The SAW workers completed 79 toys, 97 are in progress and ready to be painted & assembled at Workshop # 2. 160 toys total so far. Toy patterns drawn out on wood will be ready to be cut out at next workshop. Spray painting the toys this year slowed the process down a little; however, members (Santa's Elves) still completed 79 toys. At Workshop #2 August 10 we will complete all toys in progress and start new ones. Thank you WoodCraft.

MARION'S CHALLENGE

I've missed many SAW meeting because of conflict with Barber-shop Quartet activities - SO I've also self-identified myself as Marion the Harmonarian.

SO THE CHALLENGE TO MY SAW COLLEAGUES:

I need a Name to reflect my Woodworking activities! Marion the Woodarian doesn't make it - rejected!

Think up some clever word that refers to wood or woodworking that ends in "ian."

The prize for the winning entry will be the World-Wide Acclaim and Admiration for your word-smiting skills and maybe an extra raffle ticket or two!
